

International Migration Studies

The Center for Continuing and Professional Education, in partnership with the Institute for the Study of International Migration, at Georgetown University invite your participation in this exciting non-credit certificate program.

Leveraging the unique position of the Center for Continuing and Professional Education, this program brings scholars from the Georgetown University Law Center, School of Foreign Services and greater Washington, DC community to create an innovative and applied academic experience. In order to earn the certificate, students must take six courses in the program, including the one required course, Global Trends in International Migration. Students are encouraged to take Global Trends first, but it is not a requirement

Courses Include:

- Global Trends in International Migration
- Migration in the Americas
- Immigration Law and Policy
- Newcomers to Citizens: Immigrant Integration
- International Organizations and Governance
- Migration and Development
