ETHICS AND THE PROFESSIONS

CURRICULAR FIELD

2009-2010

LIBERAL STUDIES DEGREE
GEORGETOWN UNIVERSITY

ETHICS AND THE PROFESSIONS

The Liberal Studies Degree Program offers fourteen curricular fields of study within the Master's degree. The courses listed in this folder comprise the current course offerings for the year 2009-2010 for the Ethics and the Professions curricular field as well as additional course offerings anticipated in the future in this field.

CURRICULAR FIELD FACULTY

Candidates for the Liberal Studies degree are provided consultation and academic advising by their Curricular Field Faculty Advisors. The Core Faculty Advisor for Ethics and the Professions is Terrence P. Reynolds, Ph.D., Brown University; Associate Professor of Theology, Georgetown University. He is published in areas of ethical theory and contemporary theology.

General Requirements

Choosing a field of study requires that you complete six courses in that field, including a Core course and a Human Values course. MALS (graduate students) must also complete a 3-credit thesis reflecting this field. Some of the curricular fields have other requirements which are listed as Additional Requirements. Generally no course may be counted twice to satisfy the Core, Human Values requirement and listed Additional Requirements. The selected curricular field will appear on the final transcript of record. To complete the total number of credits required for the degree, 30 credits for the Master's courses may be selected from any Liberal Studies courses or other courses at the University appropriate to this degree with the approval of the Program Director.

ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS FOR ETHICS AND THE PROFESSIONS CURRICULAR FIELD:

All students must register for two required courses, The Ethics of Aristotle and Kant and Ethical Problems in Contemporary Society. These satisfy both the Core and Human Values requirements.
